

Root Cause Analysis for Internal Auditors

John Chesshire

15th OCTOBER 2019

9:00-16:00

CPE's: 7

Course Objectives

As internal auditors we can use root cause analysis to obtain clear insight on the real, underlying causes of governance, risk management and control failures. Developing a clear understanding of what has gone wrong can lead us to create and propose robust solutions to avoid similar incidents happening again. This course will equip you with the skills and confidence to conduct your own professional root cause analyses.

Target audience

Heads of internal audit, internal audit managers and senior internal auditors involved in planning and providing assurance on governance, risk management and control. It is particularly relevant for those wanting to add greater value and deliver enhanced insight through their work.

Course description

This course will take you through the following learning steps:

- What is root cause analysis?
- What are the benefits?
- The theory of root cause analysis
- Internal audit testing and evaluation – how to make root cause analysis effective
- An overview of different root cause analysis techniques
- How to achieve success with root cause analysis
- Pitfalls to avoid in practice

The course includes facilitator input, short practical discussions and task based exercises to reinforce the methods you have learned and build upon existing knowledge.

Biography

John Chesshire has nearly 20 years' internal audit, assurance and consulting experience. He delivers a wide range of internal audit, fraud, risk management and governance training through JC Audit Training Ltd and the Chartered Institute of Internal Auditors in the UK. John has been a Fellow of the IIA since 2006 and extensively involved with the Chartered Institute's training, examination and qualifications programmes for many years. He is also the Head of Assurance for the government of Guernsey in the Channel Islands, an examiner for the Institute of Risk Management and also holds QIAL, CIA and CISA qualifications. John is the independent chair at Hillingdon, the second largest London borough.

Cost

€ 210

€ 180 (HIIA Members)

OAED

Seminar can be subsidized by OAED (LAEK Program).

Venue

Mediterranean Palace,
3 Salaminos str & Karatasou,
Thessaloniki, 54626