

IT Audit for non IT Auditors

Markos Daskalakis

Course Objectives

Cover a wide range of IT Audit topics, with examples, that are relevant to Auditors with non-IT background

Who should attend?

Auditors / External Auditors without with non-IT background

Course description

- Definitions & Fundamentals
- Application Controls
- General Computing Controls - IS Infrastructure and Operations
- Disaster Recovery / Contingency Planning
- Types of Cybercrime
- Preventing & Controlling Cybercrime
- CAATs and Continuous Audit

IT Audit for non IT Auditors

Price

€ 300
€ 200 (members
IIA Greece)

Venue

virtual seminar via tele-conference

CPE's: 7

Curriculum vitae

Markos Daskalakis brings more than two decades of continuous professional experience, 19 years of which in Global Dow 150 financial institutions (in all 3 lines of defence) and Deloitte, across 3 continents.

He has operated at the Board and Audit Committee level contributing industry expert ideas, shaping strategic decisions, converting them to tactical plans and driving these efficiently to implementation

Key features of his career include:

1. creating, reshaping and re-tooling large Internal Audit functions, formulating & deploying Internal Audit Methodologies that comply with global standards and best practices
2. leading/facilitating the delivery of complex, multi-jurisdictional operational and financial restructuring projects

Concurrently, Markos pursues an academic career as a freelance lecturer in Audit, Assurance, Business and Finance-related professional qualifications such as ACCA, CISA, CIA and DipIFR in EMEA, bespoke courses and coaching for Executives with more than 3,500hrs of classroom experience

He is a Certified Information Systems Auditor (ISACA-CISA), a Certified Internal Auditor (IIA-CIA), an Associate Chartered Accountant (ICAEW-ACA) and a member of the Technical Chamber of Greece. He earned a Master's Degree in Civil and Environmental Engineering from Imperial College, London

Today, Markos lives in London and works as an Internal Audit Chief Operating Officer in one of the world's largest Financial Institutions that employs circa 260,000 people and has Total Assets of circa USD2.7 trillion.

Mr Daskalakis offers his services pro bono

